NGSA and Center for LNG Welcome Incoming Trump Administration

(Washington, D.C.) – The Natural Gas Supply Association (NGSA) and the Center for LNG (CLNG) released the following joint statement after the 2024 election was officially called for President-elect Donald Trump.

Dena Wiggins, President and CEO of the Natural Gas Supply Association, said:

“NGSA’s members look forward to working with President-elect Trump and his administration. As leaders in the energy industry, we have a unique responsibility to help provide an energy future that is clean and affordable for all while simultaneously advancing our nation economically. We are committed to continuing this work together.”

Charlie Riedl, Executive Director of the Center for LNG, said:

“U.S. LNG exports are a bipartisan success story, and we look forward to working with President-elect Trump and his new administration to unlock even greater economic, climate, and geopolitical benefits by, first and foremost, lifting the Department of Energy’s “pause” on LNG export permits. As global energy demand continues to grow, U.S. LNG exports will play a critical role in ensuring the United States remains a global energy powerhouse.”

The Natural Gas Supply Association (NGSA) represents integrated and independent companies that supply natural gas. Founded in 1965, NGSA is the only national trade association that solely focuses on producer-marketer issues related to the downstream natural gas industry. NGSA advocates for well-functioning markets that foster a growing, competitive market for natural gas. NGSA is dedicated to achieving a cleaner future through strong partnerships with renewables and supporting innovative technologies and market solutions that reduce emissions.

Markets Matter

The Center for Liquefied Natural Gas (CLNG) advocates for public policies that advance the use of liquefied natural gas (LNG) in the United States, and its export internationally. A committee of the Natural Gas Supply Association (NGSA), CLNG represents the full LNG value chain, including all six large-scale LNG export facilities in the United States, shippers, and multinational developers, providing it with unique insight into the ways in which the vast potential of this abundant and versatile fuel can be fully realized.
